Community School Definition

“A community school is a school that acts as the hub of its community by engaging community resources to help meet student, family, and community needs.

Community schools offer a range of on-site programs and services that support the success of students and their families. Every community school looks different because each school works to meet the unique needs of its unique students, families, and community members. The fundamental goals -- success for all students and families -- remain the same.”

-- Federation for Community Schools

Community School Frame

Recommendations:

- Community School Resource Coordinator
- Clear delineation of principal-superintendent roles
- Inclusion of teachers in discussion
